1 PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

The new school year has begun! Over the past few years, the world has been ravaged by the epidemic, and life has changed significantly. As everyone takes steps towards returning to normalcy, we are hopeful for a brighter future. Although the epidemic has brought many negative impacts to society, with a positive mindset, it is not difficult to notice that there have been many gains for everyone.

In the past few years, there have been numerous breakthroughs in the use of information technology, whether in improving learning or in daily life. Students have made impressive achievements in self-directed learning through the use of information technology. In the coming year, teachers will use this advantage and continue to design more interesting opportunities for self-directed learning for students. With the development of artificial intelligence, schools will also explore how to enable students to make good use of technology for learning.

Furthermore, our focus this year is on "establishing healthy lifestyle habits." We believe everyone understands the importance of health. However, mere knowledge is not enough. What's more important is taking action, cultivating beneficial habits for physical and mental well-being in our daily lives. This year, through regular classes and various activities, we will help students gain more knowledge and develop healthy lifestyle habits. We have many activities that require parental participation and assistance, so let's all work together!

In the new school year, I wish everyone good health and happiness!
